VOL. 67 NO. 18 | THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1962 | CANYON, TEXAS | 16 PAGES, IN 2 SECTIONS | 10 CENTS

Mr. Eck Robertson of Amarillo placed fourth in the Old Fiddlers Contest held Saturday afternoon on the east side of the square. Robertson is 74 years old and has been playing the fiddle since he was five years old. The Contest was one of the activities of the Randall County Roundup and Old Settlers Reunion held in Canyon Thursday through Saturday of last week.

Construction To Begin On College Campus

Construction is expected to start early in September on two new dormitories and a dining hall at West Texas State College, at a cost of $2,016,380. Bids were opened last week, and contracts will be let following approval by the Board of Regents of Texas State Teachers Colleges, Aug. 28.

Successful bidder on the building project was A.D. Kasch and Sons of Big Spring, with other bids being submitted by firms in Amarillo, Odessa, and Fort Worth.

The new buildings will be financed by revenue bonds, which will be paid back by income from use of the facilities. Completion is expected by September, 1963.

A new women's dormitory, to house 192 coeds, will be constructed next to Hudspeth Hall, and the new dining hall will be located across the street north, in an area between Terrill Hall and the Pueblo Courts. The big men's hall, slated to accommodate 384 men, will become the first major building to be constructed north of Spur 48, or Pecos Street, on the north edge of the campus. It will be immediately north of the new dining hall, and across the street from Terrill Hall.

Architecture of the new buildings, whose architects were Hucker and Parge of Amarillo, will be contemporary as in the newer dormitories on the campus. The dormitories will be two-story and built on the unit plan, with all rooms opening onto a central court. The new men's dormitory will be about twice the size of Guenther Hall, latest men's reisdence on the campus.

The new dining hall will seat 700 at a time, compared with approximately 500 in the present cafeteria. The new building will incorporate all kitchen facilities for both dining halls, and will feature movable partitions to make four separate halls. A permanent small dining room is also included in the plans.

With the completion of the two new dormitories, the number of residences on campus will be brought to ten major and relatively new dormitories for West Texas State. They will accommodate about 2,000 students.

Wilkinson is under treatment at Neblett Hospital. Members of the family said he had been in a coma most of the time up to Wednesday morning but had had short periods of consciousness.

Indians Use Drug In Church Rituals

Peyote Cult Bared

Grand Jurors Ask For Tight Statutes

Randall County grand jury this week investigated a Panhandle-wide peyote cult with its center here in Canyon.

The grand jury recommended passage of legislation to curb the use of peyote, lysergic acid diethylamide, retalin and insulin.

Grand jurors in their report to Judge Gene Jordan noted that "this practice, though affecting a relatively small group, is a dangerous thing to the community."

Almost a score, including several West Texas State College students and some Canyon

So The People May Know

(AN EDITORIAL)

We feel a sense of community pride this week in the manner in which Canyon is handling a thorny community and area problem.

We refer to the grand jury investigation of the use of peyote and other drugs here.

We believe that the manner in which the investigation is being pursued and remedies sought recommends the Canyon community well as the home of a great institution such as West Texas State College.

The investigation could have been initiated at Seagraves, Tulia, Amarillo or any of several other communities in the Panhandle where peyote users live. It was not. It was begun here.

Officials at West Texas State College began investigating as soon as they learned of the cult's existence. Far from being a black mark against the college, the manner in which the investigation has been handled may serve as a great benefit to the State of Texas and other schools with similar problems.

Let us say now that only two members of the West Texas State faculty ever were linked to the cult. They no longer are members of the faculty.

We commend Dr. Paige Carruth, assistant dean of men, for his diligence in investigating the matter and his efforts to find a remedy.

A measure of praise should go to the Randall County Sheriff's Department and Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston for his part in the investigation.

We hope that Senator Grady Hazlewood will move with all speed to fulfill the request of the Randall County grand jury in seeking enactment of laws to curb the use of peyote and other drugs.

To the people of the Panhandle we say, send us your children to educate. We have problems and will have more. We will not hide them from you.

We have men in the Canyon community and at West Texas State College with the guts to drag them into the open and solve them.

Redmen Would Keep Cactus On Legal List

Members of the Native Church of North America use peyote in their religious rites.

The membership is made up largely of some 150,000 to 200,000 Indians across the Southwest and Canada. It is an intertribal religion in which some 46 tribes are represented.

Peyote is a small turnip-shaped cactus the buttons which secrete a potent alkaloid known as Mescalin.

Living on reservations that sometimes have the appearance of rural ghettos, dreaming of never-to-return glories of their people, living in a dismal present and facing a bleak future, it is little wonder that the Indian seeks some sort of escape.

This they find in peyote which lets the soul wonder into the future, rejoice in the past or contemplate the present unruffled by reality.

Peyote was not known by white men until recent years. Reports here say Quanah Parker brought peyote and the religious rites back from a visit to Old Mexico.

The ritual as practiced by the Indian lasts through the night. They take place in a special tent.

Tusker Dies After Acid Injection

Tusko, a 7,000 pound male elephant at the Oklahoma City zoo, died Friday after an injection of lysergic acid.

Tusko was the first elephant to be given an injection of an experimental drug used by researchers to induce temporary mental illness. The 10-year-old animal collapsed and died five minutes later.

In humans, the drug known as lysergic acid diethylamide, produces mental illness similar to schizophrenia.

Dr. L.J. West, professor of psychiatry at the University of Oklahoma, said the drug was used on an elephant because its brain is similar to a human's but larger, making study easier.

The researcher said he was surprised at the elephant's extreme sensitivity. West has taken a dose of the drug himself in experimentation.

Old Settlers Gathered For Reunion

Area old settlers had a chance to talk over old times Saturday at the third annual Randall County Old Settlers Reunion held Saturday on the Canyon square.

Some 116 persons registered for the reunion with Mrs. B.C. Taylor being recognized as the person having lived in Randall County for the longest time. She has lived here 73 years.

Mrs. Addie Hefner, 93, of Canyon was selected as the oldest person attending the reunion and Frank McCraw of Macomb, Oklahoma, traveled the longest distance to attend the gathering.

The settlers were entertained all afternoon by the Old Fiddlers Contest. The Fiddlers were divided into two divisions; under 65 years of age and over 65 years old.

Texas Shorty of Dallas won first place in the under 65 division and was awarded $50. Second place winner was B. H. Riley of Olton winning $40, and Denzil Boyter of Lubbock won $30 for third place. C.E. Loter of Wheeler won $15 for fourth place.

In the over-65 division Jack Mears of Lubbock won first prize and Joe David of Clarendon won second. Third place winner was Frank McCraw of Macomb, Oklahoma, and Eck Robertson of Amarillo won fourth place.

Money awarded to the winners was the same as in the under-65 events.

NAZARETH LAD TRIES TO SAVE SISTER

Canyon Boy Hero Sunday

A family of expert swimmers Sunday was credited with saving a family of non-swimmers from being wiped out in turbulent Palo Duro Creek.

Heroes of the hour were strapping Mickey Fitts, 17, who did most of the saving, and Lonnie Wagner, 15, who tried to save his baby sister but failed.

The drama unfolded at a pool on Palo Duro Creek near the traffic loop on the south end of Palo Duro State Park Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wagner of Nazareth and their five children had been picnicing in the park and were wading in shallow water in the creek.

The youngest of the family, Bonnie, 7, stepped off a ledge and swift water carried her into a pool about 11 feet deep.

Lonnie saw his baby sister in danger and went courageously to her rescue in spite of the fact that he cannot swim. Lonnie went under.

The family started screaming for help and both Mr. and Mrs. Wagner started wading toward their stricken children although neither of them can swim.

Young Fitts who was attending a family reunion in the park had been swimming in the deep pool just a few minutes before. He and a party of relatives had just left the pool and were about 100 yards away when they heard cries for help.

He and two cousins, Albert Posey, 31, of Stanton and Gary Anderson, 15, Tahoka, sprinted toward the pool slinging off shoes and clothing as they ran.

Posey, who was nearest, reached the pool first. He rescued the little girl but strangled on water in doing so. He collapsed exhausted on the bank.

Young Fitts, an expert swimmer and diver, plunged into the muddy water as did the Anderson boy. Anderson dived twice but never was able to reach the bottom.

In the hysteria which surrounded the near tragedy no one knew where the Wagner boy had gone down. Fitts plunged to the bottom six times before grappling a seemingly lifeless body on the bottom of the pool.

The Wagner boy was covered

Kids, Adults Share In Fun At Roundup

Kids and grownups joined in the prize winning last week at the rodeo held as part of the activities of the Randall County Roundup and Old Settlers Reunion.

A calf scramble which was held each night of the three-night rodeo enabled the kids to get their share of the money. In order to win, five calfs were released from a pen into the arena and the youngsters had to secure a ribbon from their tails. The first one to get a ribbon won first place.

Winners in the calf scramble for Thursday were Gary Moore, David Thompson, Donnie Alred, Mide Wade and Billy Scroggins.

Friday night winners were, David Thompson, Bill Schaeffer, Connie Christinson, Jerry Mariner and Gale Swatzell.

Winners in the Saturday night event were David Thompson, Ricky Hales, Jo Angela Groves and Avery Thrasher.

First place winner received $6 second place $1 and a pair of levis, third place $1 and a H-C shirt, and fourth and fifth places received $1 each.

Richard Reff won a Stetson hat Thursday night as a door prize and P.H. Woolsey won a pair of Justin boots in the Friday night door prize drawing. Three hats were given Saturday night as door prizes. Nancy Scott won the Stevens

Window Shapes, Sizes Give Builder Trouble

There have been many surprises for the J.C. Page Company which has been installing new aluminum windows at the Randall County Court House, Architect Oscar Schilling told members of commissioners court Monday.

Schilling said none of the holes for the windows were the same size.

"We were prepared for that," he said, "but we weren't prepared for some other things."

The window slots taper, he reported. Some are wider at the top than at the bottom and some wider at the bottom than at the top. Every window has a personality of its own, he related.

On top of that some bricks came tumbling down when one of the old windows was removed.

The architect asked that $228.00 be approved by the court for purchase of some window frame devices to make the window slots uniform from top to bottom and $40.00 to have the bricks replaced.

The court took the matter under study to await any other quirks the windows may have in store.

The court voted to accept $72.96 late payment of taxes from Fred Soll and to forgive $8.03 interest.

Advertisement for bids was authorized for purchase of a new calculator for the tax assessor-collector's office.

Tom Lair, county clerk, asked the court to consider a new photo copying machine for his office. He declares that his present machine is obsolete. The court authorized him to look at several machines with a view of recommending the purchase of one for his office.

A young mother appeared before the court to ask for financial help. She has two small children and is a student in an Amarillo secretarial school.

She told the court she was deserted by her husband. The young woman, who had sat smoking as she waited, was given a check for $50.00 and admonished not to spend it on cigarettes or liquor.

She also was instructed to file a child desertion complaint against her absent husband.

Commissioners authorized purchase of butane to be used by V.A. Danner in burning weeds and johnson grass along the ditches adjacent his farm. Danner raises certified seed.

Commissioner Glenn Dowlen estimated the cost would run to about $8 a mile for burning weeds off the two miles of right of way.

Bids Let On New Motel Water Line

Contract has been let for installation of a 6-inch water main from the northeast corner of Canyon Elementary School to the site of the new motel just south of town.

Low bidder was the Ramsey Enix Company with a bid of $4,897.24. The engineers estimate for laying the 2200 feet of water main was $5,262.00.

Four bids were submitted. Highest bid was $5,712.98.

Peyote...

nd area people, were ques- ioned for at least six hours y the grand jury.

Peyote is a small, turnip- haped cactus which grows in everal parts of the Southwest nd abounds in the Rio Grande ountry along the Mexican bor- ler.

It is used in religious rites y some 150,000 Indians. In- estigators here believe there nay be a cult tendancy in the se of peyote in this area.

Peyote produces halluc- nations and at least one area sychiatrist has expressed be- ef that its use could result in mpairment of the mind.

He said it affects the user n much the same manner as oes lysergic acid. Lysergic cid is used by psychiatrists o induce schizophrenia.

Schizophrenia is a type of sychosis characterized by loss f contact with environment and isintergration of personality.

Dr. Hugh Pennal told The anyon News that improper use f either lysergic acid or pey- te is extremely dangerous and ould result in permanent harm o the mind of the user.

The grand jury report ref- ected alarm at the fact that ere is inadequate legislation y the federal government and e state of Texas to control e use of these substances.

"The grand jury is of the pinion," said the report, "That orrective action should be ken and further that with re- erence to those offenders who e students in the school sys- ms of this area, that the of- cials who have control of these stitutions should be given thority to discontinue their tendance at such institutions on evidence that such students e participating in the use of ese and like substances."

District Attorney A.W. Lair rected the probe. "Handling is thing is a community and ea problem," he declared. ir had expressed hope some ne ago that the grand jury ould recommend appropriate gislation.

College officials said invest- ation of the cult has been derway at the college for veral months.

"I've got a filing cabinet l of information on it," one icial declared.

Lair said hands of officials ve been tied for lack of leg- ation. "There's no law ag- nst it," he said.

A college officials said he s questioned all principals nnected with the college ex- pt for one former faculty ember who is no longer in e state. He emphasized that ere is no one on the faculty the present time whose name s been linked with use of yote.

He said there are no grounds expulsion of students be- ved involved because use of yote is not illegal.

Dr. James P. Cornette called Col. Homer Garrison, De- rtment of Public Safety chief, help as soon as he learned t peyote was being used re. State agents came to nyon to investiage but they , were stymied by lack of aw dealing with peyote.

Troy Jordan, college security icer, has worked in coopera- n with other officers in the estigation.

Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston d he found out about peyote ng used here about a year . Johnston is under the im- ession that the group using yote is some type of semi- igious cult.

He said he questioned one th who declared that he is ng peyote religiously with the mate goal of ridding him- f of all his worries.

He said the young man told eing spiritually transported another and more beautiful ld while under the influence he drug. The youth told the riff that while under the in- nce of peyote his spirit left body and he was able to roughly examine his inner- st being.

He told of beautiful colors, ght lights and a sense of l-being in the world of pey- Johnston said the young had no desire to stop g peyote although he stout- contended to the sheriff that was not addicted to the drug.

ne student questioned in nection with the cult had the owing story to tell.

I first heard of Canyon peo- taking peyote shortly after first part of 1960," he orted.

These people started taking ote after they had made a down state for lysergic acid apy from a doctor there.

The therapy was designed, ording to them, to break n the barriers between the scious and unconscious d.

The virtue of this was supposed to be the ability to examine the pressures buried in one's mind which could cause undesirable character traits.

"By recognizing these pressures for what they were, they could be dealt with and eventually removed.

"Peyote was supposed to do the same thing. They were ordering the cactus from a garden supply house in Houston."

Another firm in Laredo as well as one in New Mexico has been mentioned as a supplier of the cactus buds. There has even been a report that peyote has arrived in Canyon via US Mail.

It usually is shipped roots and all as though to be planted, the informant reported.

"It is prepared by skinning, baking dry and slicing it," the student continued. "Then it is taken internally, either dry or boiled into a tea. It has a very bitter taste and induces vomiting in the person taking it."

The student said the idea for taking lysergic acid therapy came from a student who entered college here about two years ago. Two teachers (no longer members of the faculty) were reported involved.

"Several others took peyote but I don't know if any of them became regular users," the student continued. "The regular bunch said they were using other drugs, among them insulin, ether and retalin. I don't know where they were obtaining them but they apparently had a prescription. The group got together occasionally and took the drugs."

The student said that during these sessions he had never heard of any loud language having been used and of nothing immoral having been done.

"The people I have seen in the throes of any of the drugs acted excited mentally but seldom if ever moved physically," the student reported.

"They could have if they wanted to but just didn't."

The sessions last from four to six hours, he said.

fore entering the tent so as to be clean on the outside. After taking peyote, he leaves the tent and turns left to vomit. This is supposed to make him clean on the inside.

He goes back to the tent clean both inside and out.

The night is filled with chanting, drum beating and peyote-induced dreaming.

Missionaries have sought to ban peyote but Indians who embrace the Natvie Church have appealed to lawmakers on grounds that to outlaw it would be interfering with freedom of religion.

In recent years the state of New Mexico legalized the "sale, possession and use of peyote in religious services." Peyote is freely bought and sold in New Mexico as in many other states.

Cooperators that have contracts under the Great Plains Conservation Program have installed the following practices on their farms or ranches. Farm ponds, diversions, terraces, windmills, storage tanks, fences, grass plantings, irrigation pipelines, waterways, tree plantings, and pipelines for livestock water. The government shares in these practices from 50% to 80% of the average costs.

A complete soil and water conservation plan is developed with each cooperator covering all of the needed conservation work on his farm or ranch. A time schedule is set up by the cooperator setting forth when he would like to do the work. This time schedule can be modified at any time by the cooperator to allow flexibility.

Thirty-two farmers or ranchers have entered into the program in the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District and three ranchers from Potter County have contracts. Two contracts have expired with all of the conservation work needed completed.

If you are interested in a complete soil and water conservation plan on your farm or ranch contact one of the supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District or the SCS technicians.

A new publication designed to help city and suburban dwellers understand soil erosion problems on their lots, gardens, and small farms, has just been released by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. It is called "Soil Conservation at Home" and interprets the Service's experience in working with farmers and nonfarm people.

A copy may be obtained from the local SCS office in the court house at Canyon, Texas, Joe G. Batson, Work Unit Conservationist said.

Mr. Batson, who is assigned by the SCS to assist the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District, said that the publication consists of 30 pages of suggestions on what the home-owner can do to reduce the amount of water runoff from his lot and cut down on soil erosion.

It describes the ideal soil and how to know what kind of soil you have. There is a section on a conservation plan that includes safe disposal of water, and shrub planting to encourage helpful wildlife, particularly birds.

The bulletin is illustrated with photographs showing contour gardening, miniature terraces, grass waterways and other conservation practices.

On the bank, Posey took over again administering artificial respiration. Young Wagner had regained consciousness by the time a LaGrone ambulance and Randall County Sheriff's Department officers arrived on the scene.

Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston waded across the creek with a stretcher and the Wagner boy was taken to the ambulance for the trip to Neblett Hospital where he now is a patient.

He is suffering from a slight case of pneumonia.

"Some one did a good job on him," said the attending physician referring to the artificial respiration which Posey administered.

Mickey said he learned swimming, diving and life saving from his older brother, Milt, 25, who is a qualified life guard.

Said sister Bonnie of her big brother, Lonnie, who risked his life for her: "I think he's wonderful."

One observer said the entire Wagner family, none of whom can swim, probably would have drown in futile efforts to save each other had it not been for the three cousins who came to their assistance.

RANDALL COUNTY GRAND JURY
August 7, 1962
HONORABLE E.E. JORDAN

This report relates to the deliberations and findings of the Randall County Grand Jury as consideration has been given to the use of substances known as peyote, lysergic acid diethylamide, retalin and insulin by individuals and groups in the Amarillo, Canyon and Tulia area.

The Grand Jury has come to the conclusion after listening to the testimony of many witnesses that this practice, though affecting a relatively small group, is a dangerous thing to the community and the Grand Jury further is alarmed at the fact that there is inadequate legislation by the Federal Government and the State of Texas to control use of these substances. The Grand Jury is of the opinion that corrective action should be taken and further that with reference to those offenders who are students in the school systems of this area, that the officials who have control of these institutions should be given the authority to discontinue their attendance at such institutions upon evidence that such students are participating in the use of these and like substances. The Grand Jury further recommends that the facts surrounding the use of these substances should be brought to the attention of the Senator and Representatives of this area and that they be asked to assist in passing whatever legislation may be required to effectively control the future use of these substances, with particular emphasis on the granting of authority to school officials to terminate the attendance of any student known to be involved in their use.

NORTH RANDALL NEWS

Mrs. Girdie Simpson has returned to Missionary work, in Orange, California. She has spent several months here. Since she left, we've felt a little depressed and lonesome.

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to the family of Mr. Bill Hart on the loss of his father, Mr. Finis Hart, who passed away after a short illness. Mr. F. Hart had been in business for many years in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fowlkes find themselves looking for additional children in their home. You see, the children of Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Wright have returned to their home in Albuquerque, New Mexico since their mother's recovery from major surgery. The Fowlkes had been caring for them for two months, consequently they feel rather lost without them.

We should all take example from the Fowlkes family. They recently got "out of a rut" and visited in the home of some friends Mr. and Mrs. Leon Riley of Amarillo. We all tend to get so absorbed in our own affairs sometimes that we feel we are "Too busy", to visit old friends and acquaintances. Mr. Fowlkes recently had the evening off from his job, which was a rare occasion, so they celebrated.

The diligent work of some of our Brownies and intermediates paid off. Honors recently received in the recent 4-H Dress Revue were: 1st place-Skirt division, Miss Sandy Fowlkes, 1st place-skirt and blouse division, Miss Annette Robinson, 2nd place-school dress division, Miss Juanita Worsham. Congratulations Girls! Keep up the good work.

Mrs. Roy Cates recently returned home from Las Vegas, New Mexico, to bring home her sister Mrs. Donna McCartney, who suffered severe neck injuries in an automobile accident.

The Ted Walkers feel very relaxed since they returned from a profitable fishing vacation, in Lake City, Colorado. They caught 28 fish, rested well and relaxed.

Den 6 Pack 97, Cub Scouts, were the guests on Captain Kidd's Cartoon Theater, Channel 4 TV recently. Several of the boys noticed themselves in the monitor while there. They were accompanied by Mrs. Roy Cates Den Mother, and her assistant Mrs. Bill Harp. They all had a grand time.

Diane and Duane Hart were guests for a week in the Charles Fowlkes home, during the recent illness of their grandfather.

Marilyn and Claudia Hodges, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin N. Hodges were guests for a week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Henderson of Plainview, Texas.

Bob White Honored By Scout Post

Bob White, until recently adult advisor for Explorer Scout Post 66, was honored at a farewell party and picnic last week at his home.

The Whites are moving to LaFayettee, La. Bob is a geologist with Statex Petroleum Company.

White had been advisor for the post for about five years until relinquishing his duties to his successor, Joe Gidden.

Accomplishments of the post have been many under White's leadership. A number of boys have completed Eagle Scout work under his guidance.

Twice the post has won prizes from the Sears Foundation-- once for a project on oil exploration and once for community projects.

The post won the Scout Olympics held here this year. White has fostered self reliance among the boys in carrying out their projects.

The Whites moved here from California. They have four sons, Tom, a student at A&M; Tim, a high school senior; Dick, a freshman; and David, an eighth grader. All four are active in Scout work.

Mrs. White also has helped out the family in Scouting by giving parties for the boys and providing refreshments for meetings and hikes.

White is an ardent hunter. The boys presented him with a Beretta over and under shotgun as a farewell gift. The presentation was made by Joe Whittington, post president.

Mets Win Loop Crown In Little League Play

Unlike their New York namesakes, the Mets of the Canyon Pee Wee League enjoyed a highly successful season, winning the league title with a sparkling 9-1/2 - 2-1/2 won-loss record.

The Mets, coached by Robert Burton and Richmond Hales, downed a fighting squad of Red Sox, 19-18 in their final game to win the title outright. They had earlier clinched a tie by edging their nemisis team, the Twins, 8-7.

The Twins, coached by Scott Downing, handed the Mets their only two losses of the season, while the Red Sox were tied once and defeated twice by the Mets.

Hard hitting by the Mets in the season finale brought victory in their highest scoring game of the year. Pitching in the last game was handled by Randall Burton, Ben Byrd, and Bill Lee.

Other members of the Mets were Rick Hales, Mike Swatzell, Ronnie Wolfe, Edwin McBride, Stephen Edens, Stephen Van Rippy, Jackie Grimes, Jimmy Rusk, David Warren, Gary Collier, Larry Hendrickson, and Larry Prichard. Bat boy was Roger Burton, assisted by "Pee Wee" Wolfe.

After the season-ending game, the squad and their families celebrated with a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jo Zach Byrd, southwest of Canyon.

Canyon Woman Becomes New Citizen Of United States

MRS. EUGENE P. BIZZELL

Many days of eager anticipation and hours of study were rewarded for Mrs. Eugene P. Bizzell of this city when her hopes were realized Friday afternoon, and she became a naturalized citizen of the United States. She was one of fifty-five applicants from Europe, South America and Asia who were granted citizenship in ceremonies held in the Federal Court in Amarillo.

Judge Joseph B. Dooley told the petitioners they constituted the largest group ever to appear before him for naturalization in the 15 years he has served as judge in that court.

Nineteen applicants were from Germany, seven from Japan, five from Great Britain and five were from Mexico. Five of the group were children.

Judge Dooley told the group, "Today is an occasion you should long remember." He stated that he noted that each adult petitioning for citizenship had a good command of the English language, which is not usually the case in naturalization proceedings.

After the oath and the Pledge of Allegiance, Frank Storm, Jr., an Amarillo oilman, welcomed the new citizens. He explained to them that the United States was either a profit country or a loss country to the individual, depending on what they made of themselves.

"Ask yourself the question, How can I help my country, and not, what can my country do for me," Storm concluded.

Small American flags were distributed to the new Americans by members of the Esther McCrory Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The DAR invited all persons present at the ceremonies to attend an informal reception for the new citizens immediately following the proceedings which began at 1:30 p.m.

To honor Mrs. Bizzell on the occasion, members of the Canyon Home Demonstration Club, presented her with a corsage, and a luncheon was held by the group in the Candlelight Room of the Vic Mon.

Mrs. Bizzell and her husband, Sfc. Eugene P. Bizzell, came to Canyon in April, 1961, when he was stationed at West Texas State College with the Reserve Officers Training Corps.

She was reared in Nurnberg, Germany, and the couple became acquainted while he was serving with the Ninth Infantry Division in that city, and she was employed at the Post Exchange. They were married July 14, 1956 and came to the United States in October of that year.

Attending the naturalization ceremony from Canyon were Sfc. and Mrs. Bizzell, Mrs. O.V. Weldert, Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt, Mrs. H.C. Adcock, Mrs. Jack Barnard, Mrs. Bill Money, Mrs. Keith Poole, Mrs. Ed Kuehn and Mrs. John Stritzel.

Musical This Week At Branding Iron Theatre

Setting the Amish prayer cap for the leading lady is Mrs. O. Wertenberger of Hereford, in preparation for the musical comedy, "By Hex," which shows Thursday and Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College. Nancy Davis of Canyon and Joe Tunnell of Midland have leads in the production, directed by William A. Moore.

An engaging musical comedy, set in the unusual community of Amish folk in Pennsylvania and in modern times, "By Hex," will be produced Thursday and Friday nights in the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College.

The show, directed by William A. Moore, will open each night at 8:15, and admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Moore will be assisted by Gene Murray as musical director and Mrs. Margaret Foster as accompaniest.

The story is set in an Amish community in Pennsylvania. Jonas, a young Amish farmer, rebels against the restrictions of his people; he wants to wear red suspenders and buy a tractor--he wants to go modern. The Bishop warns him he will be shunned, and in the meantime, the Bishop's daughter, Nancy, in a moment of weakness, has kissed a non-Amish man.

Both Jonas and Nancy are formally "shunned," and this action brings despair to Nancy's younger sister, Lydia, who wishes to marry Eli, but Amish custom forbids a younger sister to marry before the older girl. The plots to bring the two "shunned" ones together ends the story, with two weddings in the offing.

Assistance with Amish customs, speech, and dress is being brought the cast by Mrs. O. Wertenberger of Hereford, who grew up in an Amish community. Mrs. Wertenberger is also responsible for a "bazaar" during the two nights, at which ceramics and other articles made by a number of Hereford women will be sold. Proceeds will go to a scholarship fund, sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity at WT.

Choreography for the production is handled by Sarah Carr of Santa Fe.

Final production of the summer theatre season for the Palo Duro Players will be Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," scheduled Aug. 17-18, according to William A. Moore, director. The show will be in the Branding Iron Theatre.

In lead roles in "By Hex," will be Joe Tunell of Midland as Jonas, Nancy Davis of Canyon as Nancy, Rose Ellen Parker of Canyon as Lydia, Reggie Reeves of Canyon as Eli, and Wam Moore of Canyon as the Bishop.

Others are Bob Haggard of Canyon as Henner, Eddie Davis of Canyon as Levi, Diane Davis of Canyon as Alma, Kathy Davis of Canyon as Rebecca, Mary Ann Wheelock of Canyon as Annie, Mel Harp of Sweetwater as David, Harry Gilstrap of Amarillo as a tractor salesman, and Dwayne Smith of Pampa as the jailer.

The chorus of Amish friends and neighbors includes Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wilson, and their sons, Roger and Ricky, of Canyon, Mac Strother of Dimmitt, Marie Harp of Sweetwater, Celia Gaines of Amarillo, Lydia Miller of Fort Worth, Phyllis Triplett of San Angelo, Judy Haney of Andrews, Elaine Phillips of Amarillo, and Mary Lou Olson, Claiborn Crain, and Lou and Lil Cowart, all of Canyon.

Gene Murray, musical director, coaches Wam Moore and Mary Ann Wheelock of Canyon in one of their scenes in "By Hex," a musical comedy slated Thursday and Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College. Presented by the Palo Duro Players, the show is one of the final plays of the summer theatre season. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

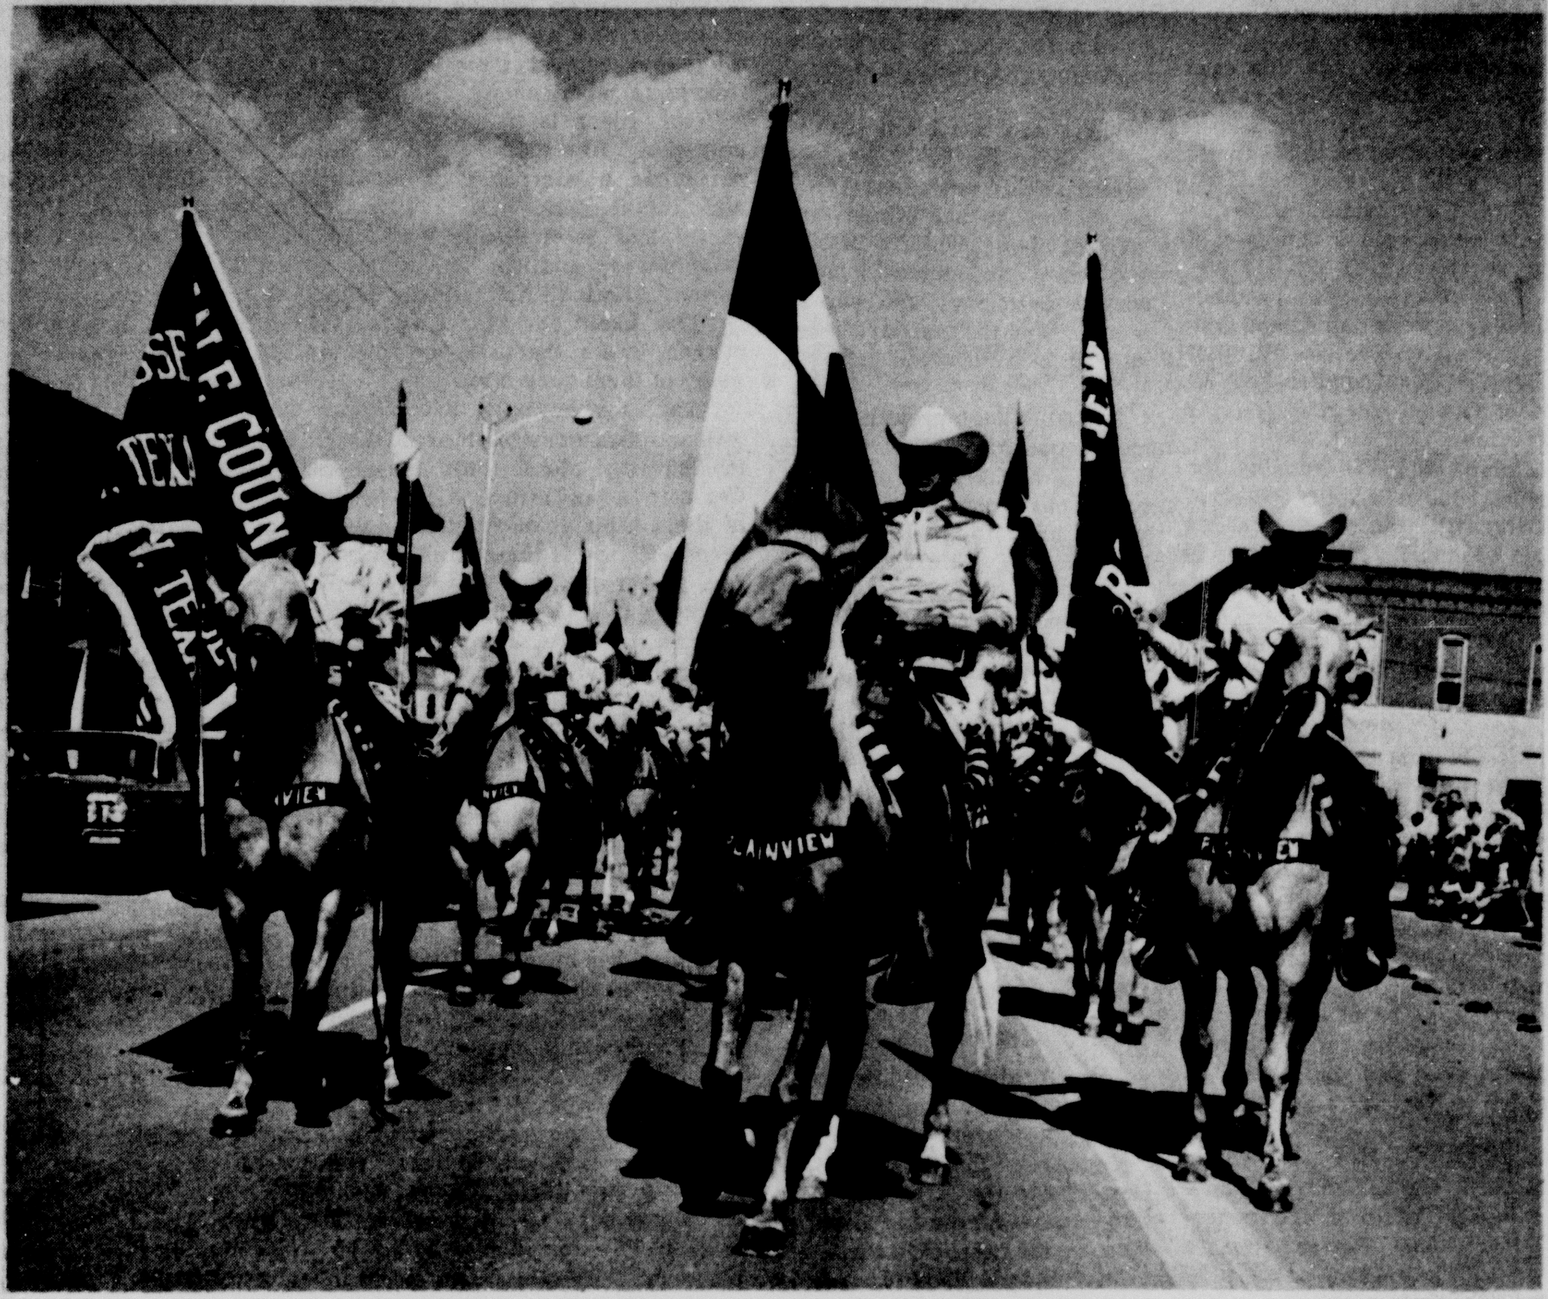
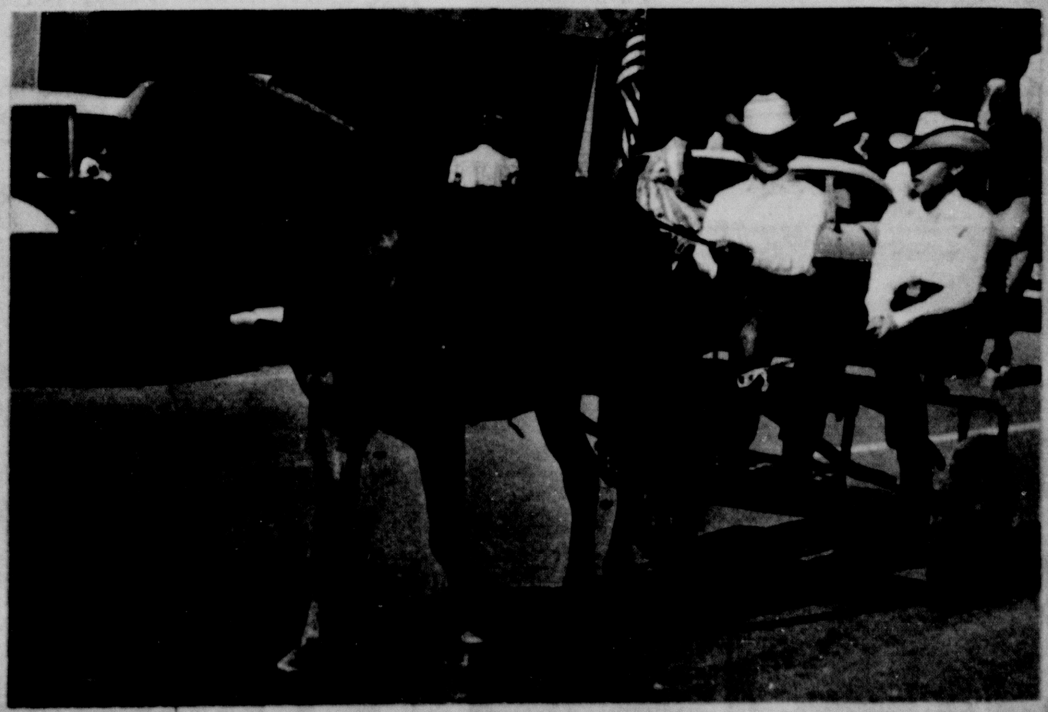
Randall County Celebrates



M. E. MOSES CO.
AIRY
PRINCESS



by Troy Martin

FROM THE CANYON RIM

The Republican Party is a fact with which to be reckoned in Randall County. Until the past year or two there was only token participation in GOP politics.

Few if any Republican primaries were held in this part of the country.

This election year precinct chairmen were named and primaries held across Randall County. A list of candidates have been fielded for the general election.

John Halley is running for county judge against Wayland Angel, Bill Butler is opposing C.Y. Johnson for his commission post in South Amarillo and Jimmy Christopher is carrying the GOP banner in the commissioner race against Clarence Beckman.

The biggest battle in the local general election probably is faced by C.Y. Johnson. Johnson hails from a precinct where Republicans naturally are strongest in the county.

Johnson sits in a 14-year old seat at commissioners court and has openly antagonized some of his rural constituents.

Add these up and you have a pretty good hill for Johnson to climb in November.

On Johnson's credit side, politically, he's about the cagiest in the game in Randall County.

To the spectator at commissioners court, Johnson appears to gauge his every move as to political impact.

Johnson is a soft spoken man, slow to anger. These are terrific plus factors for any politician.

Jim Christopher faces a tough bout with Beckman Christopher is a likeable and popular young man about town always busy with civic and community undertakings. But he faces the old pro in the person of Clarence Beckman from Umbarger.

Beckman usually chooses his words carefully. He works hard for his constituents and often pays special attention to the problems of town people. He's been in office more than 20 years and he's going to be hard to dislodge.

The Halley-Angel race is hard to figure. Halley has plugged hard for South Amarillo votes but in doing so has tended to alienate the remainder of the county.

There are few if any blemishes on the record of Wayland Angel to which an opponent may point. Too, he has friends and many of them in South Amarillo. South Amarillo elected him over one of their own, who was an attorney and the standard bearer of the Amarillo newspapers.

Probably the biggest asset of the Republican Party in Randall County is its dynamic young county chairman. John Kenehan brings to politics all the vigor he poured into his business to make it successful.

Kenehan sponges up information about issues in all levels of government from the school district on up to Washington. He has a good grasp of all these issues and, if he stays in politics, he no doubt will rise to a position of command on state and national party levels.

Kenehan represents the conservative side of the Republican Party. He talks earnestly about governmental and party problems looking his listener straight in the eye as he does so.

John Kenehan would be a good man to have in your corner in any kind of scrap.

Kenehan's counterpart in the Democratic Party is David Matthis, government teacher at West Texas State College.

Dave is well liked in town and has the reputation of being a fine government teacher. His students with whom we have talked have words of highest praise for their mentor.

Matthis does not throw himself into politics as does Kenehan. At least if he does it has not been apparent. Possibly he feels that it is not necessary since the Democrats have always been in the majority in Randall County. Perhaps Dave's teaching duties interfere.

At any rate, we have never seen him accompanying a candidate on a vote soliciting tour as we have Kenehan.

From a newspaperman's standpoint, an interesting campaign is developing on county level for November. Only November can tell us what the voters will decide.

Hilltop Views

In working my files recently I found an article that I wrote Jan. 2, 1951--one of a series I wrote five days per week for The Amarillo Times between September 1948 and March 1953. It is as timely now as when I wrote it, and if I were writing today on the same subject there is little I would change. Hence, what follows is repetition.

"Our guess is that 100 years from now historians will write something like this: 'This middle of the twentieth century experienced a vast acceleration in the amalgamation of national and racial cultures. Political, economic, religious, moral, racial and other ideologies began to move toward a common denominator and the foundations were laid for a world civilization.' (Notice I did not say anything about a world government).

"The basis for that forecast is to be found in a number of current facts that are not making the headlines--at least not many of them very often.

"Take for example, the shifts in population as a result of the war and its aftermath. It is said that there are 10 million foreigners in Germany alone. This means that one out of six or seven of Germany's population is the product of an alien culture--many of them alien to each other as well as to Germans. Here most of them will spend their lives, intermarry, rear their hybrid children, and gradually develop new standards of living, new processes of thought, new cultural ideals. Neither they nor Germany will ever be the same again.

"And, while speaking of Germany, it is culturally and racially significant that as a result of the American occupation of that country there are tens of thousands of bastard children there whose blood is half American. Similarly, no doubt, with reference to French, English, Russian occupation results. For that matter, wherever there was a vast concentration of troops in a foreign country there was extensive racial amalgamation--even in Japan blood lines are fusing.

"Another significant movement is that of displaced persons. We have already (1951) brought over 300,000 to this country. Australia has absorbed 140,000, and other countries comparably. They will be absorbed into the cultural streams of their new homes, but they will leave their own marks upon the respective civilizations to which they go. Thus the impact of race upon race, of culture upon culture in so many parts of the world is bound to produce far-reaching results.

"Still another amalgamating influence is the rapid expansion in world travel and the increased contacts between races, religions, economic and political ideologies, educational procedures, etc. For example, more than 20,000 Americans this year (1951) attended Oberammergau. There is hardly a hamlet in this country that hasn't been represented on foreign soil at some time during the last few years. Our people are studying the world first hand

"Similarly, other nationals are travelling and studying, too. Only today as I write I sat in the Canyon Rotary Club and listened to a Dutch teacher who has been in this country a whole year studying our educational institutions and the American way of life. She is a student at West Texas State. In many of our public schools are exchange teachers. In almost every American college there are students from foreign lands--hundreds of them in each of many of our larger American universities. Likewise many of our own youth are studying in Latin America, in England, in France, in Italy, in Canada, in Australia, and in other foreign countries.

"Then there are our international service clubs, Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, etc--that are establishing forms of brotherhood that encircle the globe. There isn't any doubt that these organizations have greatly advanced the cause of world peace through their erosive effect upon the sharp edges of racial, religious, and other prejudices.

"Even world trade, perhaps unintentionally but none the less certainly, is exerting tremendous influence toward cultural unity. Thousands of American youth are following our industries and other commercial units to foreign lands in all parts of the world except Iron Curtain countries. Many of them will become permanent residents there and be absorbed into the native civilizations, but not without unexpected permanent results.

"Finally, United Nations through its various agencies like the World Health Organization, the Educational, scientific, and cultural Organization, the Food and Agricultural Organization, the International Labor Organization, and others of like kind, is giving powerful impetus to the Amalgamating process.

"The present generation will hardly live long enough to see the ultimate product of all these new agencies, but that a new, and a better civilization will eventually emerge with freedom as a common denominator, there is little doubt in my mind."

Encourage Them

Bill Moore tells us that some 25 teenagers have been working their hearts out producing a musical, "By Hex," to be presented Thursday and Friday nights at the Branding Iron Theatre.

We hope they get a good audience. These kids have spent a lot of their time this summer working on something constructive. The best way to get youngsters into constructive channels is to encourage them.

The best way to encourage them is to attend their productions.

At this point we also would like to express appreciation to Gene Murray on behalf of the community and also to Margaret Foster.

Gene is musical director of the show and Mrs. Foster has spent hour after hour at the piano. Our best wishes to the cast and management of "By Hex".

Duane Guy and family have just returned from a trip to the East Coast. They visited Washington, DC, Lexington, Ky., New Haven, Conn., Madison, Wis., and South Dakota.

Your Better Hearing

A third science which has great bearing on audiology is psychology. The training of the audiologist is totally incomplete without a good deal of course work in psychology.

With a handicap, the personality of the person is affected. He may withdraw into his own self, or he may become resentful and bitter because of this handicap.

It behooves the audiologist to be prepared to counsel persons who have the problem of hearing impairment. Often he has bad news for the individual and he must be able to present it in such a manner that any present emotional problem is not amplified.

The audiologist is not a psychiatrist and should not be concerned with psychological diagnosis any more than he is involved in medical diagnosis. Even though he is trained in psychology, he is not a psychologist.

The audiologist should be somewhat acquainted with special education. He should know some of the techniques of education of the deaf and hard-of-hearing.

The field of education is another discipline which embraces audiology. With a hearing-impairment, the individual's educational capacities have been affected. The audiologist needs to know some factors of education in order to refer the individual to the proper training institution to suit his needs and capabilities.

Speech correction will provide further information to the audiologist in order to properly cope with some of the cases which will come to him.

The training of the audiologist naturally includes a good deal of speech correction. This provides him with the experience to assess to effect of the hearing problem upon the person's speech.

Next week, we will continue this discussion of the related fields of audiology.

Famed Composer Visits Symphonic Drama Site

"I'm completely American trained. I proved it could be done."

So spoke Isaac Van Grove, the famed composer and arranger, during his visit to Canyon last week.

Van Grove was in Canyon last Wednesday to acquaint himself with the Palo Duro Canyon setting for the Panhandle Heritage Foundation symphonic drama to be produced next summer.

He will work with Paul Green, the producer of the play, in composing and arranging the script of the drama which will depict the early days in the Panhandle area.

A review of Van Grove's past engagements throws light on his outstanding ability of today.

He began his career as a pianist and accompanied Grace Moore for several years. He toured South America with her and made one movie with her.

In 1925 he began his opera career. For eight years he was with the Chicago Grand and Civic Opera Company and following that engagement he was with the Cincinnati Summer Opera Company.

He performed with the St. Louis Municipal Opera and conducted operas on Broadway.

Van Grove has composed two operas and several ballets.

"I have done several pageants, each offering different challenges," Van Grove said.

He has worked with Paul Green on two pageants: "Seventeenth Star" and the "Steven Foster Story".

"The symphonic drama to be held in the Canyon is a real challenge," he commented.

"The other productions have had rather man-made atmospheres, but the Canyon isn't at all man-made," he continued.

Van Grove commented on Green's ability and enthusiasm for the Heritage project.

"Paul was so enthusiastic when I talked with him last week, I couldn't understand why until I saw the setting for the production for myself," he said.

"I've been in Amarillo several times and I never dreamed that Palo Duro was out there." Van Grove continued.

In September Green and Van Grove will meet again for a week at which time the play will have formulated into a whole picture. The third week of September they will arrive in Canyon to make final decisions concerning various technical necessities.

"When Paul and I get together in September we will have a stack of papers with ideas concerning every part of the play. As ideas begin to crystallize the script will be cut down and it will begin to form a whole picture," he explained.

The Van Grove-Green team promises to provide the Panhandle area with a production that is equal in size and magnificence to Palo Duro Canyon that will provide the backdrop for the play.

Isaac Van Grove, arranger of the music for the symphonic drama to be produced next summer in the Palo Duro Canyon, relaxes in the Ples Harper home. Van Grove visited in Canyon last Wednesday to acquaint himself with the Canyon. He will work with Paul Green the producer of the play.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding a new Section thereto to be known as Section 49-d, as follows:

"Section 49-d. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State of Texas to encourage the optimum development of the limited number of feasible sites available for the construction or enlargement of dams and reservoirs for conservation of the public waters of the State, which waters are held in trust for the use and benefit of the public. To this end, and with the approval of the Board of Water Engineers or its successor, the proceeds from the sale of State bonds deposited in the Texas Water Development Fund as provided in Article III, Section 49-c of this Constitution, may be used by the Texas Water Development Board, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, for the additional purposes of acquiring and developing storage facilities, for the conservation and development of water for useful purposes in and from reservoirs constructed or to be constructed or enlarged within the State of Texas or on any stream constituting a boundary of the State of Texas, by any one or more of the following governments or governmental agencies: by the United States of America or any agency, department or instrumentality thereof; by the State of Texas or any agency, department or instrumentality thereof; by political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State; by interstate compact commissions to which the State of Texas is a party; and by municipal corporations.

"Under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, the Texas Water Development Board may also, with the approval of the Board of Water Engineers or its successor, execute long-term contracts with the United States or any of its agencies for the acquisition and development of storage facilities in reservoirs constructed or to be constructed by the Federal Government. Such contracts when executed shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas in the same manner and with the same effect as State bonds issued under the authority of the preceding Section 49-c of this Constitution, and the provisions in said Section 49-c with respect to payment of principal and interest on State bonds issued shall likewise apply with respect to payment of principal and interest required to be paid by such contracts. If storage facilities are acquired for a term of years, such contracts shall contain provisions for renewal that will protect the State's investment.

"The aggregate of the bonds authorized by said Section 49-c, plus the principal of the obligations incurred under any contracts authorized hereunder, shall not exceed the Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) in bonds authorized by said Section 49-c of Article III of this Constitution.

"The Legislature shall provide terms and conditions for the Texas Water Development Board to sell, transfer or lease, in whole or in part, any acquired storage facilities or the right to use such storage facilities at a price not less than the direct cost of the Board in acquiring same; and the Legislature may provide terms and conditions for the Board to sell any unappropriated public waters of the State that might be stored in such facilities. As a prerequisite to the purchase of such storage or water, the applicant therefor shall have secured a valid permit from the Board of Water Engineers or its successor authorizing the acquisition of such storage facilities or the water impounded therein. The money received from any sale, transfer or lease of storage facilities shall be used to pay principal and interest on State bonds issued or contractual obligations incurred by the Texas Water Development Board, provided that when moneys are sufficient to pay the full amount of indebtedness then outstanding and the full amount of interest to accrue thereon, any further sums received from the sale, transfer or lease of such storage facilities may be used for the acquisition of additional storage facilities or for providing financial assistance as authorized by said Section 49-c. Money received from the sale of water, which shall include standby service, may be used for the operation and maintenance of acquired facilities, and for the payment of principal and interest on debt incurred.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the General Election to be held on November 6, 1962, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Texas by adding a new Section to be known as Section 49-d, providing for a State program of acquiring conservation storage facilities in reservoirs"; and

OU Student Gets Practical Experience Here

One of Oklahoma University's top journalism students is getting a stint of practical experience in newspapering this summer as a member of The Canyon News staff.

She is Margo Williams, who after six weeks already is a familiar figure around Canyon.

Margo has had printers ink in her blood from birth. She was born at Wilburton, Okla., March 25, 1942. At the time she was born her dad, Sam, was a linotype operator on the local paper.

Sam--whose name now is well known among newspaper people of the Southwest--was jerking sodas when he and his high school sweetheart, Betty Poe, got married. She was 16 and Sam was 18 when they took the leap.

Margo has seen the good times and the rough times in small town journalism.

The Williamses moved to Tulsa while Margo was yet very small. Her dad worked at job printing for a while but that was not for Sam Williams.

He went to Kanowa where he and Mrs. Williams published a small newspaper. Margo started to school at Kanowa.

Since she was a toddler Margo has had to work around a newspaper office. At Kanowa she did odd jobs such as chucking papers and doing single wraps for her dad.

On Wednesday nights (that was publication night) Sam and Betty were much too busy to have Margo and her two sisters, Karen and Paula, under foot so they put them in the show next door.

When the show was over the three little sisters were bedded down on the stacks of newsprint next to the press. There they slept peacefully unaware of the thunderous chugging of the old drum cylinder.

"Mother and daddy were so young then and we were with a baby sitter so much that people just didn't realize that they had three children," Margo remembers.

Margo's parents were associated with Senator Bob Kerr of Oklahoma in printing The Enid Events for a time and then moved to Littlefield where they bought out and consolidated two weekly newspapers.

The family still owns controlling interest of the parent corporation, The Littlefield Press, which publishes The Lamb County Leader and The County-Wide News, one of the state's leading semi-weekly publications.

Margo soon discovered that her parents insisted upon her working regardless of the economic need. The Littlefield papers prospered but Sam and Betty Williams still expected their offspring to keep busy.

Margo had a paper route on Sunday mornings delivering her dad's newspaper.

When she was in the eighth grade her dad handed her a camera and told her to go after news pictures. She still did single wraps, showed proof and kept the ad department's mat files up to date.

Then one day her dad introduced her to a monster known as a fairchild engraver. It was a handsome machine and was to play an important role in the welfare of the county's newspapers.

Margo found herself doing photo engravings for The Olton Enterprise, The Sudan Beacon and The Earth Sun as well as for the Littlefield publications.

"I didn't mind," Margo recalls. "I like newspaper work much better than house work."

Margo took time off from her work this summer to attend the wedding of her sister, Paula, who married an attorney. Karen will be entering internship in a short time after receiving a degree as a medical doctor.

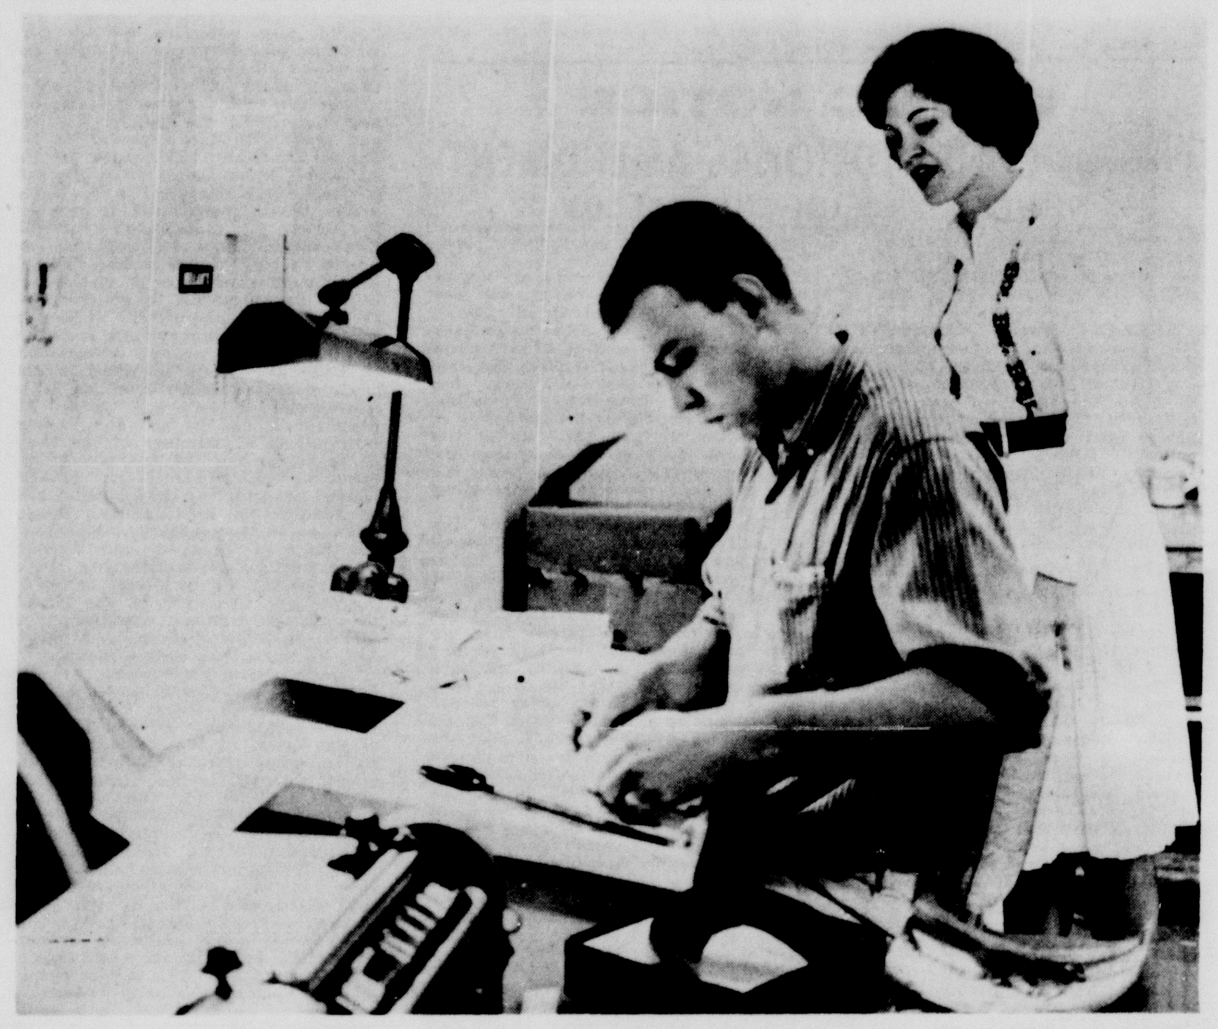
Margo, whose bright personality and love for people gets all sorts of information for her, is happy with newspapering. She went to Tech one year and then transferred to OU.

She will be a senior at Oklahoma during the 1962-63 session.

Margo has fallen in love with Canyon.

"I will return," Margo declares, quoting MacArthur's famous words as she reluctantly prepares to return to school the latter part of this month.

Margo Williams, Canyon News reporter for the summer, types happily on one of her many feature stories. Margo will be a senior student this year in the Oklahoma University school of journalism.



Margo Williams watches as Roger McWaters "pastes up" a page of The Canyon News. The News is produced by offset process. Margo as a journalism student is attempting to learn something about all phases of producing an offset newspaper.

Kansans Visit In Hamerson Home

Recent guests in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. J.L. Hamerson were the Rev. and Mrs. A.L. Whittemore and children of Yates Center, Kansas. The Hamersons were married in Illinois with the Reverend Whittemore officiating.

As a coincidence, the Whittemores arrived in Canyon, Aug. 3, the Hamerson's wedding anniversary. Reverend Whittemore is a Methodist minister, and Reverend Hamerson is pastor of the local Presbyterian church.

Rivers Returns After Hitch

Bob Rivers has been discharged from the service and is returning to Canyon.

Rivers spent almost a year with the 149th Military Police at Fort Polk, La. He will resume his duties with the Highway Patrol here August 15.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Gene Adkisson, Manager

WE MADE IT!

Whew! Telstar made it.

I couldn't be prouder if I'd pushed the button that sent the satellite into orbit.

As you probably know, Telstar is the Bell System's new communications satellite. It acts as a sort of moving microwave relay tower in space. Signals from the earth are received by the satellite, amplified within it, and then transmitted back to the ground.

Everyone here at the telephone company had his fingers crossed that Telstar would be successful. After all, that little 170-pound ball opens a whole new world of communications possibilities. Voices, television pictures and data messages can now leap thousands of miles in a new and exciting way.

IT WASN'T EASY

Sitting back and reflecting on the many developments that made Telstar possible, three things come to mind:

1. Since the end of World War II, the Bell System has spent over one billion dollars for research and development in fields pertinent to satellite communications development.

2. Communications by satellite would be impossible without six Bell System contributions--the Transistor, the Solar Battery, the traveling wave tube, ruby masers, the waveguide, and new antennas for the ground stations.

3. The Bell System paid the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the launching of Telstar. No one got a free ride.

I could go on and on about Telstar, but I'll just make one more comment:

I am convinced that if there's ever a better way of providing communications--we'll do it.

ARE YOU MISSING CALLS?

The Canyon telephone directory will be going to press in September. Will your name be listed?

Many people in Canyon use the telephone every day and do not have their name listed in the directory. If you are one of these persons make sure your name is listed, so your friends and business associates can find your number easily. You will be surprised at the low cost of an extra listing.

We recommend listing wives, teen-agers, grandfathers, grandmothers, roommates, mother-in-laws or anyone else living in your household whose name is different from yours.

If you want to make someone in your family happy, call our telephone business office, OL5-2151, and order an extra listing for them. It will be enjoyed the year around.

Don't wait--call today so you won't be left out.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Canyon Teachers Attend Workshop

Leon Bagwell and Ed Dwyer, Canyon High School vocational agriculture teachers, will participate in a state-wide workshop Aug. 7 through 10.

The four-day meeting will be held in San Antonio.

MOVE TO AUSTIN

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Britt and daughter, Kimberly, and Miss Jackie Barnard, left last week to go to Austin. The Britts are moving to that city where he will be associated with his father, Leonard Britt, formerly of Canyon, in the contracting business. Miss Barnard will also visit in Dallas with friends before returning to Canyon.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burney Slack were their daughter-in-law and grandchildren, Mrs. Harrell Slack, Harrell Jr., and Sarah Elizabeth, of Olney. They were here while Slack attended National Guard Camp in Louisiana.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it--and so do its readers.

DPS Officials List Emergency Signals

Have you ever been in distress beside the roadway with a flat tire, out of gas or any of the other numerous things that seem to plague us as motorists on our highways?

"Forty-six states including Texas, have adopted uniform distress signals to be used by motorists in trouble. The problem now is to educate the public to their meaning and use," Major Harry Hutchison, Commander of Region #5 of the Department of Public Safety said this week.

The American Association of State Highway Officials is responsible for crystallizing and standardizing the following rules.

In an emergency on freeways, whenever possible, drivers should stop their cars on the right hand shoulder well away from the thru traffic lane.

At night the tail lights and the interior lights of the stopped vehicle should be turned on. If the vehicle is equipped with a turn signaling indicator having an "emergency" switch, it should be turned on so that both the right and left turn signals will flash simultaneously. Where a disabled vehicle is stopped in such a position that part or all of a traffic lane is occupied, portable warning devices should be placed to the rear of the stopped vehicle to notify oncoming drivers of the traffic hazard.

Whenever help is needed, a white cloth or handkerchief should be displayed from the stopped vehicle so that it readily can be seen from other vehicles on the highway. For example, the white cloth may be hung from the window next to the driver's seat so that it is conspicuous to passing motorists. In addition, when practical, the hood of the car should be raised.

While waiting for help, motorists should remain within their cars or nearby in a safe position off the traveled roadway. They should not stand or walk in or near traffic lanes, or leave their cars unattended.

After observing a distress signal, passing motorists should notify the nearest police, highway, or automotive service official at the first convenient opportunity, giving the location of the motorist in need of assistance.

"If all motorists will remember and use these rules," Major Hutchison said, "much of the safety hazard now existing will be eliminated. Too many people are being killed or injured in Texas because they don't know what to do when they get into trouble out on the highway," he concluded.

Nancy Aldridge and Brenda Roberts of Abilene visited here recently with Nancy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Samples. Mrs. Samples returned home with them for a week's visit.

The Murray Boston family and the Charles Boston family are spending this week at Monument Lake, Colorado.

P - P Museum Attendance Tops Record

Attendance to the Panhandle-Plains Museum rose to 11,763 persons for the month of July, Boone McClure, museum curator, announced this week.

Last year's July attendance was 11,031.

The total attendance through July for this year is 54,310 over last year's total for the same length of time of 49,927.

Since the building was opened before 1933 the museum has registered 1,546,685 persons.

"That includes only those persons who have registered. From one-fourth to one-third of the persons do not register," said McClure.-

dishwasher
*Hotter than hands can stand

Faster than hand washing

A water temperature of 150 degrees would be mighty hard on your hands — even when protected by gloves. But that's how hot the water is in your dishwasher.

The hot water puts all the cleansing action of your detergent to work and gives you much cleaner dishes — much easier.

It can take as long as 2 hours a day to wash and dry by hand — and that amounts to 30 full 24 hour days a year. That's a lot of drudgery. On the other hand, washing and drying dishes electrically is simply a matter of getting the dishes off the table and into the dishwasher. No dirty dishes on the sink, either, you can store them in the dishwasher until you are ready to do them.

There's a dishwasher to fit your home — and your budget. Portable models require no special plumbing or wiring.

The cost of the electric service to wash and dry dishes is less — each day — than the price of one cigarette.
